Some info about PG Collective

Who we are

PG Collective is growing team of strategists, troubleshooters and problem solvers.

We see ourselves as quiet radicals on a mission to create a more equitable and sustainable society, fighting systems and strategies which all too often undermine positive change.

What we do

We provide practical advice and support to communities, networks, movements, social purpose businesses and non-profits going through major transition.

We're not afraid to challenge the status quo and break down barriers, working with brilliant, passionate and entrepreneurial people to do things differently.

Break-out groups/Group discussion

What has worked really well or not worked in any kind of partnership work you have been part of before?
